VENTORS. The Subscriber (late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, under the Act of 1837) determined to prevent advantages, in applying for patents, superior to those offered by inventors by others, has made arrangements whereby on applications prepared and conducted by him,
and paid back by others, will be remitted by him
in case of failure to obtain a patent, and the withdrawal of the application, if any, by him within thirty days after the rejection. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, curing patents in this and foreign countries, prepared, and advice rendered on legal and scientific matters respecting inventions, and infringements of patents.

Inventors can only hereinafter obtain their specifications on the most reasonable terms, (generally about 30 per cent. less than those of others in the profession,) but avail themselves of the experience of 20 years practical, his visits to the Patent Office, an extensive library of legal

NEWPORT,

BY CRANSTON & NEWMAN

144 THAMES STREET.

MONDAY MORNING, DEC. 10, 1855.

It is said that politics makes strange bed-fellows,—there is more truth than poetry in this maxim; other events in life sometimes cause a most extraordinary fellowship, and we know of none more peculiar and unaccountable than the combination of elements in the bogus warfare in regard to the Gas Company,—this cannot be accounted for unless upon the principle that birds of a feather flock together. In the war which was waged nearly a year ago against the persons who at that time had the management of the affairs of the Gas Company, it is well known that Henry Bull, Francis B. Peckham, Benjamin Finch and Samuel Engs were all confederated for the purpose of carrying out Bull's plans. Bull had an object to gain, and Peckham who is his tool, or else Bull is Peckham's tool, and we scarcely know how to place them,—did a good deal of the dirty work in the operation. Finch & Engs were the bitter personal enemies of the men against whom Bull made war, and this, and this alone, induced them to embark in the project, for neither of them owned a dollar's worth of the stock. Here was a holy alliance for the accomplishment of a specific object; and they worked together for its fulfilment. Now let us look at the other side of the picture, and enjoy the panoramic scene.—Peckham & Bull and Finch & Engs are in the lumber business, and there has always been a jealous rivalry between the two firms; at heart they love each other about as much as his Satanic Majesty does holy water; but Finch, who hates any man who bears the name of Cranston, because Cranston, the writer of this article, rebuked his reason against the Whig party when he voted for Charles T. Jame for Senator, and in consequence of other punishment which had been administered to him for his political sins, was entirely willing to aid Bull,—not that he loved Bull much, but because he hated Cranston more,—went into the enterprise, and, of course, carried Engs with him, for although Engs pretends to oppose Finch occasionally in political matters,—still, it is all pretence,—there is nothing real in it. It will be remembered that a few years ago, when this Francis B. Peckham was in the wood and coal business, quite an excitement was created in the community in regard to some wood which Peckham had sold to Trinity Church, and much was said in regard to the quantity delivered correspondingly to the Advertiser, Peckham, who was sustained and backed up by Bull; everything which men could say was uttered by these parties against each other, and Peckham was whining about the streets and seeking sympathy, because, as he said, Finch & Engs were attempting to ruin him! But this has all passed away, and now these pure lambs are reposing affectionately upon the breasts of each other!

At the meeting of the Know Nothing State Council in Providence, on Tuesday, brother Charles C. Vanzandt was elected grand High-as-Yee, in place of brother James W. Curtis; brother George B. Knowles and several others were candidates, but brother Vanzandt was selected on account of his bulky qualities.

We are indebted to the Musical World, New York, for a beautiful steel engraving of Mozart, the celebrated composer; a copy is presented to each of the subscribers of the Musical World, which, by the way, is a most excellent paper.

A fire broke out at the State Prison in Sing Sing, on Friday morning; the loss to the State will be from $10,000 to $15,000. Mr. Watson, a hat contractor, lost about $8,000; insured for $39,000.—None of the convicts escaped.

Godey's Lady's Book for January is a fine number; the engravings are beautiful and the reading matter excellent.

The House of Representatives at Washington have not yet elected a Speaker.

RICH, NOT COMFORTABLE.—One of the wealthiest farmers on the Connecticut tells the following story:—"When I first came here to settle, about forty years ago, I told my wife I meant to be rich—she said she did not want to be rich—all she wanted was 'enough to make her comfortable.' I went to work and cleared up my land I've worked hard ever since, and have got rich—as rich as I want to be. Most of my children have settled about me, and have good farms. But my wife isn't comfortable yet!"—Haverhill (N.H.) Republican.

What is that dog barking at? I asked a top whose boots were more polished than his ideas. "Why," said the bystander, "he sees another puppy in your boots."

AN INTERESTING TRIAL.—There has just been completed in the United States Court in this city, Judge Sprague presiding, an interesting case, which has occupied a fortnight, and has been contested with great ability and thoroughness by Mr. Choate for the plaintiff, and E. R. Hoar for the defendant. The principal facts are these:—Reuben Smith, of Waltham, lived for many years with Theodore Lyman, the celebrated India merchant, and accumulated a property which after his death was estimated at $2,000. His wife having died, and he being childless, he removed, in his old age, to West Roxbury, where he boarded with his nephew, James Smith, and was taken care of by his niece, Harriet Smith. His death was sudden, by a stroke of apoplexy. He left no will, but when his estate came to be administered, Harriet produced a note for the sum of $35,000 with interest (amounting now to $4000 more) given to her for value received, by her uncle Reuben. The administrator, a nephew of the deceased, contested the note and the sum was brought to recover payment. The theory of plaintiff's counsel was that the old man being childless and not being fond of those with whom he lived in Waltham, (a step-daughter and her husband,) not caring much about his Ohio relations, and requiring much nursing on account of a troublesome wen on his neck, had resorted to his niece for care and comfort, and in consideration of her agreeing to take care of him for the remainder of his life, had made and delivered to her this note. The theory of the other side was that he made the note for the purpose of deceiving the assessors as to the amount of his taxable property; and his alleged dislike to his step-daughter and his Ohio relatives was controverted. The disproportion between the service rendered or promised by Harriet, and the large amount of the note, was, of course, dwelt upon.—There was enough in the case to occupy Judge Hoar about nine hours, and Mr. Choate about eight in arguing it.—Judge Sprague charged the jury briefly, and this morning a verdict was rendered for the plaintiff in the sum of $8,061 14; leaving about $21,000 of the amount to be divided among the heirs at law, two of whom are sisters of the deceased, living in Ohio, and are represented by the administrator, and the third of whom is father of the plaintiff in the case.—Boston Telegraph.

THE KNEEL WAS TOLLED.
The following lines are from the pen of Gen. Morris; they will be read and admired not only by the friends of the estimable Christian lady whose memory they commemorate, but by all persons possessed of taste and feeling:

ON THE BURIAL OF MRS. WARD.
The knell was tolld—the requiem sung,
The solemn burial service read;
And tributes from the heart and tongue
Were rendered to the dead.

The dead?—Religion answers "No!
She is not dead—she cannot die!
A Christian left this vale of woe!
An angel lives on high!"

The earth upon her coffin lid
Bounded a hollow harsh abode;
The mound arose and she was hid
Forever from the view!

Forever!—Dreadly the thought
Pain, like an iron bolt, through the brain;
When Faith the recollection brought
That we shall meet again.

The mourners wound their silent way
Down the mountaine's gentle slope,
Which, thickening in the smile of May,
Looked cheerfully no hope.

As hope?—What hope?—That boundless One
God in his love and mercy gave;
Which bright hopes of salvation's sun,
The darkness of the grave.

Gen. P. Morris.

A DOUBLE ELOPEMENT IN BALTIMORE.—That portion of the city known as Dumfries was thrown into a state of excitement yesterday, in consequence of the elopement of two wives from their husbands. The first case was that of a young woman who had been married only a few months. It appears that before her marriage she was addressed by a young man to whom she engaged herself, but from some cause the contract was not consummated, and the husband whom she has left making her acquaintance, and being a respectable young man, who had a good prospect for independence, she married him. Shortly after her marriage she commenced visiting a place where lottery policies are sold, where she met the party whom she first loved, and who was married to another.—At these meetings an intimacy sprung up which soon ripened into an agreement to elope, and they accordingly went off a day or two ago, the wife taking all the money her husband had in the house with her. Her injured husband has determined to take the matter philosophically, satisfied that he is much better off without an unfaithful wife. The wife of the wretch who has thus assisted in destroying the happiness of a worthy fellow man will have the sympathy of all right minded persons, and she too will doubtless be quite as happy alone, as with a man who possesses so little of the principle which makes the character of his sex noble. The other case is that of a female who, "very easily and without difficulty," the gay Louisa who went off with her deserted wife left one of his own to mourn over his ingratitude. This is a singular coincidence that one neighborhood should give birth to two events of like reprehensible character at the same period.—Balt. Patriot.

THE INDIANS IN OREGON AND WASHINGTON TERRITORIES.—Private letters received in this city this morning, says the Washington Star of Tuesday, represent the condition of the Territories above named, through Indian outrages, as to be most deplorable. It is said that they do not make indiscriminate war on the whites, but on Indian tribes, whether red or white. In this arms and ammunition are procured from the Hudson's Bay Company which still has stations in that quarter of our country. By the treaty they may retain their posts and trading houses on our side of the line until this government pays them a valuation for them. Having availed themselves of the privilege (no provision having been made by Congress to dispossess them as provided) their commerce with the hostile savages is really at the bottom of most of the murders and robberies the latter are committing on our people. Among the very first acts of the new Congress, should be legislation to enable the President forthwith legally and peaceably to remove these foreign trading stations. Otherwise, we fear that the people of the far Northwest will shortly abate the nuisance among them with illegal violence.

BRUTALITY IN THE ARMY.—A party of seven, who had deserted from the tenth regiment United States army at Fort Crawford, Prairie du Chien, were overtaken north of Lancaster by a Lieutenant. On recognizing him, they left their wagons and exclaimed, "We are your prisoners." He ordered them to halt, and the report is that the command and the firing of his revolver were simultaneous. He shot one of the deserters in the back of the head, killing him instantly. The other deserters then surrendered, and the party proceeded to Lancaster. The Lieutenant was there examined and committed to jail. At last accounts the deserters were at large.

FIRE IN RICHMOND.—The City Hotel, recently occupied as a fever hospital, in Richmond, Va., was destroyed by fire Wednesday night, together with two small houses in the rear. Loss heavy—insured for only $10,000.

FASHIONABLE CHURCH IN NEW YORK.—You enter the church porch. The portly sexton, with his thumbs in the arm-holes of his vest, meets you at the door. He glances at you; your hat and coat are now, so he graciously escorts you to an eligible seat in the broad aisle. Close behind you follows a poor, meek, plainly clad seamstress, relieved from her treadmill round to think, one day in seven, of the Immortal. The action is struck with sudden blindness! She stands embarrassed one moment; then as the truth dawns upon her, retraces her steps, and with a crimson blush crosses the threshold which she has profaned with her plebeian feet. Hark to the organ! It is a strain from Norma, slightly Sabbathized. Now the worshippers one after another glide in—all a rattle—panamas were—satin—glisten—diamonds—glitter, and scores of forty dollar handkerchiefs shake out their perfumed odors. What an absurdity to preach the gospel of the lowly Nazarite to such a set. The clergy know better than to do so. He values his fat salary and handsome parsonage too highly. So with a velvet tread he walks all round the ten commandments—places the dowiest pillow under the dying profligate's head, and ushers him with scriptural hymning into an upper ten Heaven. Fanny Fern.

FREE NEGROES.—The Legislature of Missouri has just passed an act to expedite the removal of free negroes from that State. They have appropriated $3000 annually for ten years towards accomplishing this purpose.

PUNCH.—Punch thinks that carriage drivers would make the best soldiers in the world, as no troops could stand their charges.

A MARRIAGE QUESTION.—If a man is addicted to smoking marries a widow, does it follow that he must lay down his pipe because she gives up her weeds?

TO THE EDITOR OF AN EASTERN PAPER.—The editor of an Eastern paper says that many of his patrons would make good wheel horses if stand back so well!

CAUTION.—LOTTERY FRAUDS.

The Commissioner of the Maryland State Lotteries has deemed it his duty to caution the public against the numerous swindlers who circulate by mail and otherwise fraudulent lottery schemes, and pretend to be agents for the sale of tickets in Lotteries which are wholly fictitious.

The only legal Lotteries in Maryland are those drawn daily under the superintendence of the Commissioners elected by the people of the State under the new Constitution to examine and approve the schemes and attend to the drawings.

All the tickets in these Lotteries and all certificates of packages of tickets have the lithographed signature F. X. BRENNAN, General Agent for the Contractor, Office of the Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, Baltimore, Md. All others are fraudulent.

For further information on the subject these frauds, address F. X. BRENNAN, 1414 Church street, Baltimore, Maryland.

THE GREAT TEA MARKET,
1 Chambers, Cor. Chatham St.
NEW YORK.

This is, without exception, the most reliable place for consumers to purchase their tea—They not only obtain an article of

GREAT PURITY.

STRENGTH AND FLAVOR, but at a much less price than is usually charged for the most ordinary trash so frequently sold by unprincipled dealers, through whose ignorance of the Tea Trade, the public have to suffer.

COUNTRY DEALERS will do well by giving us a call. They may increase their trade very materially by purchasing of us, which alone will prove.

The establishment is so situated as to be ready of access to all persons coming to the city, being in the immediate vicinity of all the railway termini, and on the corner of Chambers and Chatham streets.

E. T. CHRISTIANSON, Proprietor.

N. B.—All tea warranted by us, will not turn out according to representation, will be taken back, and the money cheerfully returned.

SOAP! SOAP!!

THE subscriber is now prepared to furnish the highly celebrated American Cream, American Laundry, American Manufacturers, Soap, and Cream Soap preparation. These soaps are presented to the public with the fullest confidence in their superiority and utility. A fair trial according to the directions given below, cannot fail to be entirely satisfactory; and an argument more conclusive than pages of certificates and recommendations. A fair trial is all I ask.

These soaps do the work of the Laundry in the best manner in cold water, either hard or soft, or salt, dispensing entirely with boiling, pounding, washing machines, &c., without injury to the most delicate fabric. In cold weather, health may render it advisable to take the chill off the water.

The tendency of these soaps is to soften the clothes and loosen the hold of the dirt, without injury.

DIRECTOR FOR USE.—White Clothes—

Rub the soap freely all soiled spots, make a strong suds in water, sufficient to cover, soak a few hours, or all night if convenient, when with a common hand rubbing and thorough rinsing, they will be perfectly clean and beautifully dressed.

Calicoes and other colored articles, wash without soaking and rinse.

Woolens—Wash in warm suds (to prevent shrinking) and rinse.

Merinnes, Silk Velvets, Silks, Ribbons, &c.

Wash in strong suds and rinse.
